PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Piazza Technologies, Inc., Palo Alto, California

Software Engineer

June 2013 – Present

- Designed and developed Piazza's real-time in-class polls feature launched on iOS, Android, and our web client.
  - Implemented the frontend and backend for polls on the web.
  - Did hands-on customer development to drive the initial spec and iterate on feedback by meeting with professors and students.
- Implemented site-wide performance monitoring by adding front-end diagnostics using boomerang.js and logging backend runtime of all Piazza API calls.
- Implemented the backend to support push notifications for Piazza's Android app.

Prezi, Budapest, Hungary

Software Engineer Intern

May 2012 – May 2013

- Created an internal User Management tool implemented in Django to sync and manage the accounts of Prezi employees.
  - Used to create/manage/terminate employee/team passwords and cloud identities to Prezi's internal GitHub, HipChat, GoodData, email, and Prezi accounts, and sync ssh keys across servers.
- Worked with ActionScript to upgrade Prezi's text editor for Prezi's redesign.
- Worked with Chef to maintain Prezi's server configurations.

ADDITIONAL EXPERIENCE

Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota

Research Associate

June 2011 – August 2011

- Worked with two fellow students under the guidance of Professor Amy Csizmar Dalal.
- Researched self-healing networks and methods to predict video stream quality in a browser in real time.
- Results of research appeared in the International Performance Computing and Communications Conference in Orlando, Florida (November 17-19, 2011):
  - Holly French, Jie Lin, Tung Phan, and Amy Csizmar Dalal. "Real Time Video QoE Analysis of RTMP Streams." IPCCC (2011).
